RetailApps create unlimited flexibility for greater performance at the scale

RetailApps are separate, self-contained solutions that dock into the standardized RetailPowerScale scale software via an interface. The modular architecture allows quick and simple implementation of expansions: from concept to on-scale implementation in just a few steps. They are precisely scalable in terms of functionality and their layout can be adapted as required. RetailApps are the key to turning ideas into reality. The advantages are clear: lower costs thanks to modular standards! Many retail functionalities are already available as RetailApps: to handle traceability data, to manage orders directly on the scale, to run promotions in the store, or to generate timed actions and messages – everything is possible! RetailApps are made available centrally for immediate implementation and operation. Thanks to international coordination of their development, the range of RetailApps is growing all the time. Contact your sales partner for a current list. RetailApps - can it be a little more?
